Recent Contract Awards

The FRC contract was competed nationally with many of the major shipyards vying for the award. The winning Bollinger design is based on a parent craft concept using a modern hull form that was originally developed by Damen Shipyards in the Netherlands. "We have had an excellent relationship with Damen for the last ten years," said Bollinger. We are currently completing another contract for the USCG, Marine Protector Class Patrol Boats, with the 75th patrol boat being delivered next year. That hull design was also based on a successful Damen design." Bollinger said that he believes the contract will bring a half billion dollars worth of business to maritime suppliers.
